

Disclaimer

Information on the Personal Property Securities Register is published in good faith. When you perform a search of the register the information returned has been supplied by third parties. They are required to supply accurate, timely information and they are legally responsible for maintaining the information. The Ministry of Economic Development simply maintains a register of the information provided and therefore cannot be held responsible for any incorrect, incomplete or inaccurate information on the register.

When you use information we provide about the legislation, please remember that it is general information. In most cases you will need a qualified professional adviser to take your particular circumstances into account to tell you how the law applies to you.

When you use information on linked sites or on any forum that we host, we do not prepare or endorse that information and we take no responsibility for it.