

How do I manage my logon

You must have a logon (User ID and password) to use the PPSR. Once you have set up a User ID with the Personal Property Securities Register, you can use the same User ID and password to access our other websites. These include:

Intellectual Property Office of New Zealand \(IPONZ\)

Societies Online

Note | Historically you could also use your PPSR logon to access the Companies Office website. This changed in June 2010 when the Companies Office began using igovt logons. Read more...

Further information

Get a User ID \(Logon\)

You need to log on to use any of the searching or registration services available on the PPSR. Once you have a User ID for the PPSR site you can use the same logon for other websites.

Update a User ID \(logon\)

Once you have a User ID you need to update details whenever they change. Learn how to update your customer, branch and user details.

Online invoices

Online invoices are available to clients who have elected to pay for online services by direct debit when setting up their customer details.

Forgotten your password or locked your User ID \(logon\)?

What to do if you have either forgotten your password or your User ID is locked.
